

ILLINOIS CONFEDERATE VETERANS GRAVES PROJECT
ROLL OF HONOR OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS BURIED IN ILLINOIS
(SHOWN BY COUNTY OF BURIAL) ©

Compiled by Gale F. Red, Project Coordinator

Updated: 19 Mar 2015

Until this project was begun in 2001, there had never been an attempt to account for all of the former Confederate military veterans who are buried in Illinois. This project is an attempt to find the graves of all of those men, and to learn all we can about each of them in order to preserve the memory of the service they performed for their country. This listing reflects contributions from many people and sources, and is an on-going project. I try to keep the list as accurate as possible, but there may be some errors. I have been doing a complete person by person audit trying to correct as many possible errors as I can. Unfortunately, information is missing for some individuals. If you know of any other Confederate Veteran graves located anywhere in Illinois or can make corrections or add any information on the men already on this list, please contact Gale F. Red, 5 Hunters Point, O'Fallon, IL 62269-3133, telephone 618-622-8949, email: galered@yahoo.com .

Greenwood Cemetery, Decatur:

Greenwood Cemetery contains a fairly large section dedicated to the remains of Civil War soldiers. Here, heroic Illinois soldiers who bravely fought for the Union are scattered among some of their enemy. During the war, Confederate prisoners arrived in Decatur, many who were sick, injured, or already dead. It was often difficult to tell the living from the dead, and therefore it is believed that many Confederate soldiers were buried alive in Greenwood Cemetery. Most, if not all, of the Confederates are unknown soldiers, scattered throughout the cemetery in unmarked graves. The Confederates were buried in the poorest and most undesirable section of the cemetery and on a fairly steep hillside. Rain eventually washed away the hillside and unearthed many bodies, including some Union men. They were gathered up and reburied in a mass grave below. None of the Confederate graves are identifiable as such today and no record was kept of how many or any names. Some were intentionally buried at the top of a fairly steep hill, as it was seen as the least desirable place to be buried in the area. Ironically, years later, a memorial to the Union effort was placed at this same location.
